ROUTS ROBBER

ady Norve of Superintendent of the Hayawood Hospital Puts Robber Discovered in Her Room Friday Night to Flight.

Miss Frances Cochran, displaying unusually steady nerve, drove a robber from her room at Hayswood Hospital early Friday evening and probably wounded the intruder as he left the room through a window. Through the harrowing experience Miss Cechran was enabled to hold her nerve and is able to give the police a splendid description of the man which may lead to his arrest.

Miss Cochran, who is superintendent of the local hospital, retired carly and at about 9 o'clock was awakened hy a noise in her room. She quietly switched on the electric lights and saw across the room at her dressing table, a young man ransacking the drawer in which she had placed her jewels. The flashing on so suddenly of the lights caused the rohher to turn about faoing Miss Cochran and start toward her. She drew a revolver and snapped it hut it did not discharge. This stopped the thief and he started rapidly toward a window, through which he had entered the room. Again she snapped tho revolver and it discharged. As the thief started through the window, he grabhed his right arm with his left hand as if he had heen shot and the young lady is of the opinion that she wounded him.

The matter was reported to the police and Miss Cochran described the Intruder as a young man about 25 years of age weighing about 120 to 130 pounds, with small dark eyes, and wearing a hlue suit and a dark soft hat pulled down all around. With this description, the police may be enahled to locate the man. Miss Cochran says she does not remember ever having seen the man hefore hut would he enabled to identify him were he captured ..

Nothing was taken from the room It is thought hy the police that the thief had figured that early in the evening was a good time to get into the rooms of the nurses at the hospital, thinking they were engaged in other parts of the hospital and not suspecting that they would retire so early in the evening.

POPULAR APPROVAL OF CONFERENCE RESULTS.

Attention is called by those who would blow hot and cold alternately on the armament conference proceedings that all the accomplishments registered are the result of secre negotiation. That even th signing of the four-power pact was done in executive session. That is true. It is also true that the American idea of the conference has been and is the opener the better. Yet in the situation the public, while still holding to its faith in public diplomacy, finds the results as reported so satisfactory as to feel fully assured that the conference is approaching all subjects and eanvassing all questions in the most statesmanlike and unselfish spirit. It is in the cordial manifestation of faith in each other among the delegates that the people rest their hope for the real benefits of the councils.

There is no indication that anything is being done under cover that has sinister claim to secreey. The foreign delegations of necessity have to keep in constant communication with their home offices. It is recognized that pending theese communications, which in most instances determine the approval or disapproval of certain details, a proper expediency justifies-even in many instances demands-that the confidential riations of the delegations be respected. So far bereulosis Christmas seai. Thèse little surface indications point to an immediate publication upon arrival ut conclusions. And so far those conclusions have been sound, so full o fpromise of wise world adjustment that they have been accepted as aupur of an altogether satisfactory ultimate.

That being the ease, it is not well to be captions in the matter of programs relating to details. Furthermore, while negotiations in committeees have not been in public meetings, the press has refused to be kept very deeply in the dark as to what was being done, and has in turn seen to it that the people were reasonably well informed on developments. Not all will agree in all points touching the conference methods or accomplishments. Yett it is the testimony of popular expression that its work so far done is beyond expectation excellent and the promise of the finished whole encouraging in the highest degree.

In short, that which the conference has completed is approved by the people most cordially. That which it yet projects is accepted by the people most confidently.

GOVERNMENT IMPROVEMENT OF COMMUNITY CENTERS.

Brother Simeon Fess, of the National House of Representatives, is preparing to be an improgressive "Watch dog of the Treasury." Listen to his pronouncement:

"Now that national government expenses are being heavily re? queed, let us nail the freak bills that will be introduced to eat up the saving."

Sounds very eareful and patriotic, doesn't it? But the truth is that Brother Fess refers to bills that are intended to help masses of the people of whom the government never before thought of doing anything except to govern them and tax them. For instance, the government is building a lot of public roads. We have no doubt at all that some congressmen will introduce a bill providing that where the nation is building a paved street, it shall also pave, as part of the same project, a few extra cross streets wherever the work passes through a community center—that is, a small town. And if the bill is any good at all. it will provide that the government, at is own expense, shall put in storm sewers before the pavement is laid, and extend those sewers to the farms in good time.

Brother Fess would immediately denounce that bill as a "freak," but in truth it is pure common sense. If pavements are laid through the open country, the farmer who drives on them should not find mud streets at the end of his drive in the country town. If he finds a few well praved cross streets in the village, he will come often and nothing will be better for the farmer, his wife and his sons and daughters than to visit the nearby town often. It will mean for them entertainment, friendship, extension of education and more prosperity in their business. All of which is an asset to the nation as a whole.

Let the government pave and sewer (fore mere health precantion) our small towns and—iutime—provide power and light ntilities for them. Any community so helped will prosper so greatly that it will be able to replace the facilities when the time for replacement arrives.

"THAT REMINDS ME_"

The ingenious but unconvinging proofs that Mr. Tumulty has used in his book to controvert many charges brought against former President Wilson in his conducct of the war and the peace negotictions, reminds us of a little story.

A man under the influence of liquor walked into a strange house, and, accosting the first person he met, the following dialogue took place:

"Shay, did you shee me come in?"

"Yes,"

"Did you ever slice mc before?"

"No."

"Well, then, how did you know it was me?"

We knew it! The president wrote his message with a lead pencil. What difference does it make to an editor-president if there are a regiment of handsome, expert typewriters around? When an editor writes he wants to think, and scratch out commonplace. phrases that first come to mind in favor of better phrases. There may be editors who dash off their editorials -- and messages to congress, too!-on typewriters, but those of the breed that belong to the age that Harding grew up in, still write with pencil, and scratch out the commonplace with good, black lead, to their heart's content."

TO ASSIST IN THE

County and City Schools Are Visited the Interest of Red Cross Seal Sales.

Miss Lucia M. Ecrion, the county urse, has visited nearly ail the schools in the county in the interest of the saie of Christmas seals. It is believed the sale will reach a great degree of success in the county. The sale of these seals will hegin in the Maysville schools this week. In view of the great good accompiished by the State Tuberculosis Association from the proceeds of these sales, it is hoped a generaus response wiii be made. The local llealth Department also shares in the henefit derived from the saie of Christmas stamps. Many of its activities will be curtailed or even stopped if the full allotment of seals are not sold.

The communities in Kentucky which are making the most rapid progress in saving children and preserving health are those which have public heaith nurses and ail time health departments. In most of these communities the public health nurse is financed by an organization known as the Heaith League, and these jeagues have found the easiest way to secure funds which support the nurses by the sale of the double harred Tuseais earry a tremendous message. and every man, woman or child wife purchases them becomes a stockholder for better conditions in health. School children are good salesmen for these little seals, because they earry their own appeal for hetter bealth conditions, and these little missionsres ean get to the hearts of men and women when they come to them asking their real help.

WOMEN'S WOES

Maysville Women Are Finding Belief At Last,

it does seem that women have more than a fair share of the aches and paias that afflict humanity; they must "keep up," must attend to daties in spite of constantly aching backs, or headaches, dizzy spells, bearing-down pains; they must stoop over, when to stoop means torture. They must walk and bend and work with racking pains and many aches from kidney lils. Keeping the kidneys well has spared housands of women much misery. Read of a remody for kidneys only that is andorsed by people you know. Mrs. E. L. Culiea, 322 West Second street, Maysville, says: "Three years ago I had an attack of kidaey trouble and my hack ached coainually. I had no ambition to do my housework and overything seemed a drag to me while going about it. I had blinding, didzy speils and my hoad ached all the time. My kidneys were not acting regularly ind in other ways showed signs of disorder. Doan's Kidney Pills were recommended to me and I sent to Wood & Son's drug store and got a. box. After using them I got over the trouble entirely and have never since been bothered. I willingly recommead this remedy."

WEATHER FORECASTS SAVE LIVES AND PROPERTY

lievernment Weather Forecasts Prove of Great Benefit Throughout the Nation Every Day.

Washington, D. C .- The importance of weather changes and of the various atmospheric disturbances in the daily iffe of the people of the country is eniphasized by the Weather Bureau of the United States Department of Agr !cuiture in the annual report recently

The usual weather forecast service, which is familiar to everyone, is con- 3 p. m. certain new phases of weather work which have been developed recently. The increase in aviation is making growing demands for service and advice. There is also a call for data and certification of facts with reference to storm, weather and rain insurance: for reports on the influence of weatlier upon the public highways; for extensions of its various services in reporting frosts, eoid waves, and hurricanes. According to the report, the weather service and advice earry with them an immediate and direct eeo-; nomic benefit i nthe saving of lives. properties, and foodstuffs for the Nation. Many accidents in aeronautics have resulted directly from lack of sufficient foreknowledge of conditions aion gthe eustomary air ways. The Weather Bureau is the agency eharged by law to perform this new service and a skelton organization is now in operation.

Hurricanes and violent tropieni storms sometimes bring heavy losses and great disasters to shipping on the Guif and alarm to residents of that whole coast. At such times the Weather Bureau and its fiel dstations are overwheimed with applications for Information. Advices sent out aliay the fears of some and quite needless aiarm of others, and guide many to make timely escaped in threatened loealities or to take precautions to minimize the destructivo effects of ethe storm which can not be escaped. Vessels whiic stlii at sea now frequently receive radio warnings days beforehand and are able to shun the zones of storms. Warnings of frosts, cold waves, bilzzards, and such weather conditions that are apt to be damaging to foodstuffs in shipment are of inmedlate money benefit.
